

The Briefing

December 2019

Featuring: Jason Chongue, Mona Eltahawy,
Penny Watson, Jayne Tuttle, Sally Rippin

Dear Booksellers,

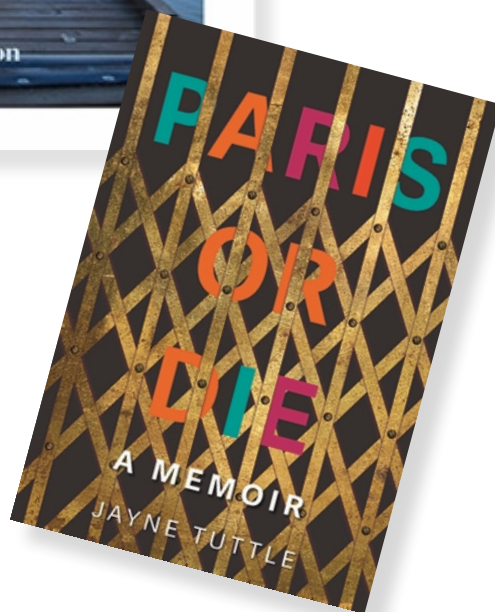

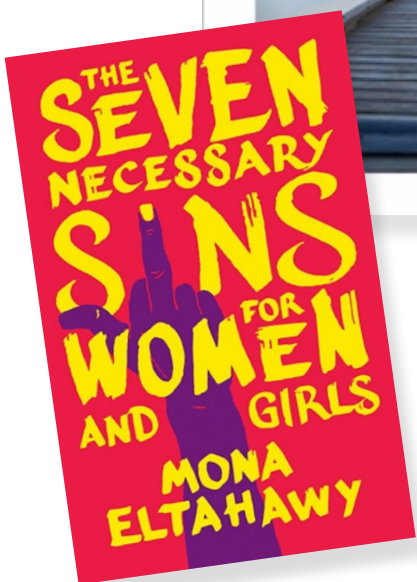

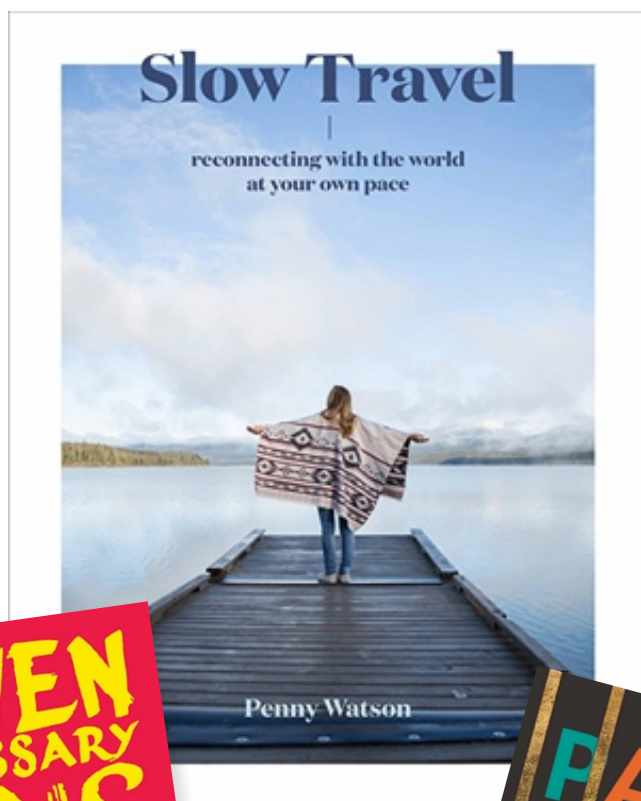

2019 has been a truly amazing year of books for Hardie Grant and we're ready to finish the year on a high!

Jason Chongue of the Plant Society is back with Green, a new hands-on guide to transforming small urban spaces into lush, plant-filled retreats. We're also thrilled to be the Australian publisher of Egyptian-American journalist Mona Eltahawy's bold and uncompromising feminist manifesto, The Seven Necessary Sins for Women and Girls.

Slow Travel reconnects us with the world at our own pace, embracing the ebb and flow of leisurely travel, while Jayne Tuttle's new travel memoir will have you dreaming of Paris. Warm, funny and raw, Paris of Die revels in the lows and highs of not just life in this city, but of life itself.

Hardie Grant Egmont is delighted to introduce Billie's Best this month. Featuring five of Billie's favourite stories in a stunning foiled hardback edition, complete with full colour illustrations, make this book the perfect gift for any Billie B Brown fan. We're also returning to the gorgeously gothic Amelia Fang series this month with Amelia Fang and the Lost Yeti Treasure. In this adventure Amelia and her friends head to Grandmother Yeti's 350th birthday, but all the presents are disappearing! Will Amelia be able to solve this mystery in time for cake? Perfect for witches and little monsters ages 7 and up.
